Summer Sizzlers!

Despite the relaxing days of summer, be assured that we're still hard at work dealing with a challenging economy striving to build a stronger business community. Here are some suggestions to make your summer sizzle with the Chamber.

Schedule your calendar around some worthwhile events and initiatives that will help you personally and professionally. There is information available on our website or at the Chamber. Please do call us with any questions. All are invited.

Sell yourself and your business by surrounding yourselves with the very best new friends. Join us for the favorite networking events that you will find on our website calendar. It might be the Business After Hours, Leads Group or Business With Breakfast. All will benefit you.

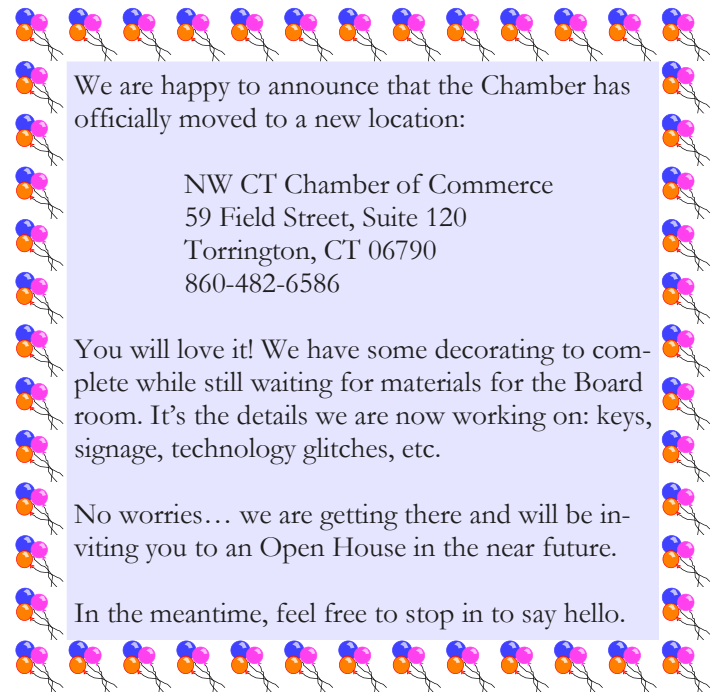

Shape your future by getting involved in the coalitions that have been created with your business success in mind such as the Manufacturing Coalition, the Health Council and the Small Business Council. Are there jobs? Do businesses expect growth? What opportunities lie ahead? Where will you find your future employees? Tell us your story so that together we can make an impact.

Score by making an appointment with the outstanding SCORE representatives that volunteer their time and expertise to help you with your business plan and answer any questions you may have regarding your business. Whether it's a legal, financial or technical issue, they can direct you to the right place for assistance. Please take advantage of this resource. Since we are now open at 59 Field Street, SCORE will be scheduling sessions for you once you call for an appointment.

Stir the pot. Let your legislators know your feelings about the bills recently passed and other issues important to you. We are scheduling a Legislative Reception in September at NCCC to which you will be invited. We also meet at the Chamber office with the Government Relations Committee on the 2nd Thursday of each month at 8:00am at the Chamber. You are invited.

Save the date. Register for the 18th Annual WOW! Forum featuring Unstoppable Women. It's at the Carole & Ray Neag Performing Arts Center of The Warner Theatre on Friday, October 7th. Go to www.WOWforum.org for details that will be updated as plans progress.

Stick with us! Good things are in the works behind the scenes that will make you sizzle with success.

New $150 Million Loan Program For Connecticut Small Businesses and Nonprofits

Governor Ned Lamont recently announced the launch of a $150 million loan program for Connecticut small businesses and nonprofits.

The result of an innovative public-private partnership, the Connecticut Small Business Boost Fund is designed to help small businesses and nonprofits access the flexible working capital they need to grow and thrive.

What makes this initiative so unique is that it:

- Focuses on underserved communities that have historically experienced barriers to accessing working capital — including organizations in distressed municipalities as well as those led by women, individuals with disabilities, veterans, and people of color;
- Brings together a network of community lenders who are committed to addressing the needs of historically under-resourced and underbanked communities; and
- Offers a one-stop shop for business owners for hands-on support and guidance before, during, and after the loan application process.

Applications are being accepted now for loans ranging from $5,000 to $500,000 at a fixed, 4.5% interest rate. These loans are available to qualifying small businesses and nonprofits with operations in Connecticut that have 100 or fewer full-time employees and annual revenues of less than $8 million.

Applications can be submitted online at CTSmallBusinessBoostFund.org. Please help us spread this good news to small businesses and nonprofits across the state.

Sincerely,
David Lehman, Commissioner

Northwestern to Offer OSHA 10 For Construction Training

The Office for Workforce Development at Northwestern Connecticut Community College is pleased to announce three upcoming opportunities for community members to receive OSHA 10 Training for Construction. Cost for the course to be held at Northwestern is $125 and high school level reading and comprehension skills are all that are required.

The three separate class opportunities are scheduled for:

August 2, 3, 4 from 5-9 p.m.

September 13, 14, 15 from 5-9 p.m.

October 26 and 27 from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Upon completion, class attendees will receive an official OSHA 10 card from the U.S. Department of Labor. The in-person and fully interactive course will provide an orientation to OSHA training standards, cover health hazards and safety practices for people who work on construction sites, and will especially focus on hazard identification, avoidance, control, and prevention.

OSHA authorized instructor, Robin Denny, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in occupational safety and health, a Master's certificate in emergency management, a Master of Science degree in public safety management, and is a State of Connecticut certified Fire Marshal. Denny has spent 37 years in the safety, environmental, and emergency service fields.

For more information or to register, contact John Fiorello, Entrepreneurial Center Director, at 860-738-6444. You can also register online at www.nwcc.edu/osha.

A lovely time was had by all who attended the Business After Hours at 422 Main St. Airbnb. Tours were given of the beautiful grounds which include a water fall fountain and koi pond that empties into the east branch of the Naugatuck river. Such a gem to be found in the downtown Torrington area! The weather cooperated with a light breeze to bring relief from the humidity as attendees enjoyed food, beverage, and networking.

The Great Giveaway Business Showcase

Excitement was in the air as businesses showcased their products and services to the public at the Warner Theatre's Carol & Ray Neag Performing Arts Center on Thursday July 14th.

Jacque Williams Entertainment provided music and announcements, including the drawings of amazing giveaways that included gift baskets, gift cards, an Amazon Alexa, a Samsung Galaxy Tablet, a fire pit, a gas grill from Lowes, and more.

Smaller giveaways were available at each booth, including a fun game of Plinko at NW Community Bank to determine your prize.

WZBG was broadcasting throughout the event with Amy Ferrarotti conducting interviews.

H'ordeuvres were provided by Salt 2.

Northwestern Professor Added to Fulbright Specialist Roster

Northwestern CT Community College Professor of Biology, Sharon Gusky, has been approved by the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) for placement on the Fulbright Specialist Roster for a tenure of four years.

The Fulbright Specialist Program pairs highly qualified U.S. academics and professionals with host institutions abroad to share their expertise, strengthen institutional linkages, hone their skills, gain international experience, and learn about other cultures while building capacity at their overseas host institutions. As a candidate on the Fulbright Specialist Roster, Professor Gusky is now eligible to be matched with projects designed by host institutions in over 150 countries globally. She will have the opportunity to work with two international institutions over her four-year tenure.

Gusky was competitively selected by a Peer Review Panel to join the Fulbright Specialist Roster based on her significant experience in the field of biology and biology education. In addition to teaching biology at Northwestern, Gusky is the chair of the Center for Teaching for all twelve CT Community Colleges. She was the 2020 President of the National Association of Biology Teachers and served on their board for three years. She has received numerous recognitions for her work in biology education including the ASM Indo-US Professorship Award which sent her to Kolkata, India to teach a short course in Microbiology. She has also received the Connecticut STEM Achievement Award from the Connecticut Science Center, and Connecticut's Professor of the Year award by the Carnegie Foundation and C.A.S.E Foundation. Professor Gusky is a Founding Fellow of the Partnership of Undergraduate Life Science Education (PULSE) program and a founding member and former president of Connecticut Association of Biology Teachers.

"I am very excited to share my knowledge and experience in student-centered learning and undergraduate biology education with science departments abroad," said Gusky. "And I look forward to learning new and exciting things from the institutions that I visit."

Northwestern Student Travels to Paris for Science & Technologies Bootcamp

Northwestern Connecticut Community College student

Morgan Yelsits was one of 16 students from several countries chosen to spend 10 days in Paris as part of the French Bootcamp: Science and Technologies for Sports and the Paris 2024 Olympic Games. Yelsits joined students from France, Germany, Mexico, and Spain to learn about the science and technology that France is using to prepare for the 2024 Olympics. Funding for Yelsits' participation was provided by a National Science Foundation grant.

While in Paris, Yelsits and the other students met with government officials, engineers, scientists, and various manufacturing companies to learn how they are all working together to keep the Olympic preparations as sustainable and green as possible.

"This program allowed me to immerse myself in French culture as well as learn about sustainability," said Yelsits. "Everything from the heating and cooling systems to the seats used for bleachers will be as sustainable as they can be. They plan to use geo-thermic heating and cooling which is sustainable and clean. The bleachers at the new arena being built are made from 100 percent recycled plastic that has been collected from the Paris area. As a biology student, it was great to see this commitment to sustainability."

Yelsits will be a second-year student this Fall. She said she is grateful to Northwestern and the National Science Foundation for providing her with this opportunity.

422 Main St. Airbnb

422 Main St. Airbnb is an Airbnb and short term rental located right on Main St. in downtown Torrington. It is a 3 unit house consisting of a large one bedroom, a studio apartment and an old Greenhouse converted into a one bedroom/event space. It also has a large garden that is perfect for small weddings and events.

This Airbnb is run by couple Molly Hogan, originally from Torrington, and Victor Guerrero, originally from Mexico City. In March of 2020 when the pandemic hit, Molly and Victor were living and working in New York City. Both of them able to work from home, they started spending weeks on end up in Torrington. They immediately saw the need for good short term housing in the area and started looking to purchase their own place. In May of 2021 they purchased 422 Main St. and immediately listed it on Airbnb. Since then, they have had well over 100 guests stay at the house from all over the world. Everyone from guests visiting family members, visitors coming up to view the fall foliage, couples looking for a mini get-away, to traveling nurses working locally. They have also had guests use the space to host a writing workshop, a company retreat, a family thanksgiving and a couple weddings.

One of their favorite things about running the Airbnb is to be part of the community and to share with guests how much Torrington and the Northwest Corner has to offer by giving them local recommendations. See some of their guests' reviews below after their stays.

“We loved coffee and breakfast sandwiches at Brinx and the chicken parm is a 10 at Sassos. We will be back.” - Gabby

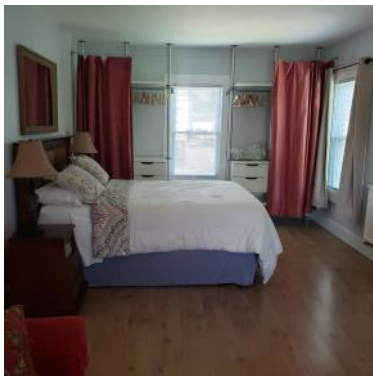

“Unique space with loads of room, clean, comfortable, and easy walk to theater and good pizza.” - TJ

“This is such a lovely location about a 10 minute walk to downtown restaurants and only a short drive from hiking locations and vineyards. Our favorite was Haight-Brown after we hiked at Burr pond.” - Caitlyn

“There’s lots of great food options within walking distance which was a huge plus. We enjoyed visiting the Torrington historical society house during our stay which is a must see!” - Rachel

“It’s an easy 10-minute walk to downtown where there’s an historical theatre, a few restaurants, a cool used book store and even a fabulous art gallery space run by a non-profit. In the other direction on Main Street there are a handful of Latin American grocers and shops.” - Sarah

The NW Connecticut Chamber of Commerce and Chamber Insurance Trust invite you to learn about CIT's new Chamber Benefits for Independent Contractors!

Allstate® Benefits has created a program with the Chamber Insurance Trust to offer the Chambers of Commerce's 1099 worker members healthcare benefits.

1 out of 10 workers are independent contractors.

Valuable key points include:

- Cost savings over the individual market
- Options- individual coverage isn't the only option
- Better benefits and plan designs
- Refund potential with a level funded plan
- In a competitive job market, gives employers the ability to attract better employees

The Allstate program's difference is we can quote product with integration with full-time employee groups and provide a total solution for a company. Pricing should be better by including all employees and 1099 workers of a group access to coverage, instead of forcing 1099 employees to buy substandard healthcare. The key is more choices and flexibility at lower costs.

We can write any industry for small to midsize groups of 2 enrolled and up, so we have solutions for all groups and now that includes independent contractors!

Please join us!
